Nervous Prostration,

So prevalent, especially among women, results from overtaxing the system. The assimilative organs becoming de-ranged, the blood grows weak and im-ranged, the blood grows weak and impoverished, and hence "that tired feeling" of which many complain. For all such cases, there is no remedy equal to Ayor's Sarsaparilla. Take no other.

"Some time ago I found my system entirely run down. I had a feeling of constant fatigue and languor and very little ambition for any kind of effort. A friend advised me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I did with the best results. It has done me more good than all other medicines I have ever used."—Frank Mellows, Chelsen, Mass.

"For months I was afflicted with nervous prostration, weakness, languor, general debility, and mental depression. By purifying the blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla, I was completely cured."—Mrs. Mary Stevens, Lowell, Mass.

Ol relative significance is the bill which was lately reported to Congress from the Judiciary Committee, having for its object to prevent the desecration of the national flag. It provides that any "person who shall use the national flag either by printing, painting or affixing on said hag, or otherwise attaching to the same any advertisement for public display or private gain shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof in the District court of the of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof in the District court of the United States shall be fined in any sum cretion of the court." Doubtless some people will object to this measure, characterizing it sentimental. But the majority of Americans will heartily approve of it. It is the plain duty of all public spirited. Americans to do their best to make the rising generation feel an enthusiasm for the flag, to inspire in the hearts of the boys and girls of to-day so deep an affection and admiration for it in all that it implies that they shall grow up thorough-going patriots, who,

Glass requires a good deal more care than china. The best material in use in cheloc chief reschang it is fuller's earth. This must auch as cleaning it is fuller's earth. This must be reduced to a very fine powder, entirely freed from any rough or hard bits which might damage the polished surface of the glass. The earth is put into the vessel to be washed; warm water is poured upon it. After it has been well is shaken it is empired out, cold water being put in to take its place. The great secret by which to keep glass clear and bright is to use plenty of cold water for rinsings, and always polish with a leather, not with a cloth. Tumblers
